The Castroville Area Chamber of Commerce wanted to thank several people for helping this year. Castroville Public Works helped fixing a leak that would have impacted the event. The Castroville Police Department helped insure that everyone was safe and able to enjoy a good time. Jonah Chang and his crew from the Parks Department helped set up, close roads, and make sure everything ran smoothly for the event. They also helped with cleanup afterwards.

The Mayor of Castroville, Darrin Schroeder, and his lovely wife Cari helped with the lighting of the tree.

It was an incredible event with many people coming together to make successful. We live in a great community. Thanks to the Castroville Area Chamber of Commerce for putting on such a wonderful event.

Special thanks to those who participated and registered for "Light Up Castroville" this year. Watch the paper for the winners.
