LOCAL PAINTER'S COLLABORATION WITH THE LIBRARY

Donald Yena is a renowned Western artist. His mass paintings draw you into the scenes of Texas depicting life in early Spanish Texas and the Battle of the Alamo. Other works include prints and illustrations of scenes of longhorns, roundups, trail drives, and railheads. His results can be found in private collections and museums and on permanent display in significant banks in Texas, including the Castroville State Bank. The State Library in Austin, Texas, permanently displays his paintings from the Texian Press book "SIX FLAGS OF TEXAS." Throughout the years, the staff and I have had the pleasure of helping Mr. Yena with prints and scanning his collection and artifacts for his various projects. The latest project was the Alamo's opening of its Collections Center, marking it the first new building on the grounds since the 1950s. The two-story, 24,000-square-foot center houses the Phill Collins Collection, the Donald and Louise Yena Spanish Colonial Collection, and the Alamo Collection. Mr. Yena was able to get the staff a private tour of this fantastic facility with Kolby Lanham, a senior researcher, and historian. The staff had the opportunity to hold some of the artifacts, including one of Santa Anna's rifles. It was truly an amazing day for staff to see Mr. Yena's impact on the historical community. It is always an honor to work with him.
